Latin American Perspectives (LAP) publishes six issues per year and is currently receiving manuscripts for the thematic issues listed below. We also accept manuscripts on other topics that are published in non-thematic issues.

- Mariategui, Critical Thinking and Andean Futures
- The Agrarian Question as an Ecological Question
- Reassessing Development and Dependency
- Coloniality and Decoloniality
- Authoritarian Populism and the Rural World
- The State and Capital Accumulation in Mexico
- Blue Economies and Ocean Grabbing
- Precarity and Public Health
- Music and Social Movements in Latin America
- Popular Feminism(s): Pasts, Presents and Futures
- Gender, Sexuality, Film and Media in Latin America

Manuscripts should be no longer than 8,000 words of paginated, double-spaced 12 point text with 1-inch margins, including notes and references, with an abstract of approximately 150 words and 5 keywords, plus a separate cover sheet with author identification, affiliation and contact information, including e-mail and postal addresses. Manuscripts may be submitted in English, Spanish, or Portuguese. LAP will translate manuscripts accepted in languages other than English. If you do not write in English with near native fluency, we prefer to receive manuscripts in your first language. The full calls for papers, submission and style guidelines, and description of the review process are available on the Latin American Perspectives website at latinamericanperspectives.com under the “Submit” tab. For LAP’s general editorial orientation, see our Mission Statement under the “About” tab. Manuscripts should be sent to lap@ucr.edu with your name and “Manuscript submission for [Name] issue” in the subject line. We also consider proposals for thematic issues submitted by guest editors. For additional information, see “Proposing a Thematic Issue” under the “Submit” tab or contact Associate Managing Editor Rosalind Bresnahan at rosalind568@gmail.com.
