

Learn more about
Project MUSE
and visit our
Virtual Booth
#LASA2021

Now and Always, the Trusted Content Your Research Requires

Haitian Revolution

Colorism &
Beauty Standards

Latin American
Theatre

Magical Realism

African Diaspora

Los Madres
De La Plaza De Mayo

Edouard Glissant

Women in Latin American Politics

Indigenous Development

Project MUSE has been an integral part of the scholarly communications ecosystem for 25 years, providing affordable access to essential humanities and social science research from respected not-for-profit publishers. In an era of continuous change, our mission—the sustainable dissemination of trusted content—remains constant. In everything we do, we return value to our community, investing in our shared future. Together, supporting digital scholarship, now and always.

PROJECT
MUSE®

Visit us in the virtual exhibits to learn more about Latin American and Caribbean studies on MUSE, using our digital resources in teaching and research, freely available open access materials, and our hosting services for not-for-profit publications.

SUPPORTING DIGITAL SCHOLARSHIP

muse.jhu.edu/25

Built on the Johns Hopkins University campus

